Welcome to Ewing!

On behalf of the residents of Ewing Township I am pleased to share with you this incredible welcome booklet. An abundance of information can be found here and it would not have been possible if not for the efforts of the Ewing Green Team.

Since my arrival in 1960, Ewing has transformed in many ways. From a blue-collar community with General Motors as the catalyst for economic success, to a center of research and development with employers like ETS and Church & Dwight, our town has strong roots with a spirit of community that makes it a great place to live.

Ewing is well on its way toward solidifying its future for generations to come. The transformation of the General Motors site into a mixed use community will make it a place where people can come together in ways never before. It will be known as Ewing Town Centre.

Live, work, and play...

Ewing’s attributes include high quality jobs, such as those in and around our airport; NJ Manufacturers, and the Princeton South complex. Coupled with amenities like our park system which includes the Ewing Community Center and an array of programming for all ages, one can see why Ewing is an attractive place for business.

A blossoming art scene is also part of our makeup. The recent conversion of the Ewing Presbyterian Church into what is now known as the 1867 Sanctuary is an extraordinary venue for the performing arts. Our Arts Commission is also very active and it strengthens our relationship with the youth of our community.

Finally, while there is much to tout, The College of NJ is a strong partner in working towards the realization of our economic, educational and environmental vision. The Township continues to build upon the relationship between housing, jobs, and this great research institution. As the next generations come forth, Ewing will be solidified as a place that fosters innovation, culture, and inclusivity.

Welcome to our community!

Bert H. Steinmann, Mayor

Dear Neighbors,

It is our pleasure to bring you our Ewing Township Welcome Booklet, a product of the Ewing Green Team’s Neighborhood Committee and local residents who have joined with us to highlight what a great town we live in.

During this undertaking we have been impressed with the richness of resources available to our community from our scenic location on the Delaware River and long rich history as a community, to our strategic position in Mercer County along major transportation routes between New York and Philadelphia. We are blessed with great community services, award winning parks, a full range of educational institutions, wonderful community organizations, terrific neighbors and so much more. Ewing is indeed a great place to call home. The Ewing Township Welcome Booklet is the result of months of effort and we are delighted to offer this guide that highlights the reasons why we all choose to live in Ewing.

As a local sustainability entity, the Ewing Green Team believes that it’s our role to support our community by inspiring and engaging those who are passionate about environmental issues. We invite you to join with us to meet the substantial environmental challenges that lie ahead. We meet on the 4th Wednesdays of each month at the Ewing Senior and Community Center at 6:30 pm. Become part of the efforts to live in greater harmony with the natural world to preserve it for future generations.

Joanne Mullowney, Chair
Ewing Township operates under the Mayor-Council form of government which provides for an elected Mayor and five council members. They are elected independently and serve four year terms.

The Ewing Police Department was formed on February 20, 1928 when Chief Harry Prince was sworn in as Chief along with Police Officers William C. Forst, John Elder, and Charles Whitehead. Those first officers patrolled the township on motorcycles they purchased themselves, using gas they purchased themselves, and armed with their own guns. William Forst took over as Chief in 1932. The original police station was located at the intersection of Parkside Avenue and Pennington Road and was barely large enough to fit all four officers in it at one time. They eventually moved to the corner of Pennington Road and Green Lane in 1934. After WWII the town began to grow rapidly and additional officers were hired to keep up with the growth of the township.

Over the years the department grew and adapted to the ever-changing needs of the township. Calvin Steepy became the department’s third Chief in 1966 and modernized the department by placing an emphasis on a well-educated police force. He instructed his men by using methods learned from the F.B.I. All Patrolmen had vehicles equipped with radios to respond to calls. A traffic services division and a detective bureau were formed under Chief Steepy as well as a Tactical Response Team and a Crime Scene Unit. The department has continued to keep up on modern police techniques and equipment as the times have changed under the leadership of Chiefs Edward Schaller, Roger Emmons, Robert Coulton, and John Stemler III. Although the sworn officer numbers fell in 2010 to a low of 65 officers, the department has rebounded back to a more acceptable size of 83 officers. The Ewing Police department utilizes the Patrol Division as the backbone of the police department. The Patrol Division is supported by the Detective Bureau, Youth and Family Services Bureau, Crime Scene Investigation Unit, Community Response Unit, K9 Unit, Traffic Services Unit, and Training Unit. The department also has a twelve-person Communications Center and a Records Bureau to help serve the community.

The department takes pride in the relationship it has with the community and continually works to build this relationship. The community will see evidence of that effort beginning this spring with increased bike and foot patrols coming to the neighborhoods and shopping centers. Currently the department is celebrating its 90th Anniversary.

Ewing Township strives to incorporate principles of sustainability in its actions and initiatives to create a community that leaves our town a better place for future generations to come. Creating a sustainable community requires leadership, vision, and commitment to environmental principles and initiatives.

Two specific Township boards were created with missions to work towards those goals, the Environmental Commission (www.ewingec.org) and the Green Team (www.ewinggreenteam.org)

The Ewing Environmental Commission was created in 1973 to preserve and protect the natural resources within Ewing Township and to work to ensure that the development and the usage of Ewing lands and properties meet with sound environmental principles. The Ewing Green Team was formed in 2009 as the entity that pursues certification from Sustainable Jersey, a nonprofit organization that provides tools, training and financial incentives to support communities as they attempt to become more sustainable. Both these entities have worked cooperatively with each other, other Township boards and commissions, and the Township to create a path toward a more sustainable future for our residents and advance environmental initiatives.

Ewing is a very active participant in the Sustainable Jersey program. (www.sustainablejersey.com) Hundreds of towns across New Jersey participate and are now working on sustainability programs to help the environment and their bottom lines. Efforts to curb carbon emissions, protect natural resources and reduce waste are happening at the local level. Through the voluntary program, communities are implementing solar power and wind turbine projects, rain capture and reuse efforts, new walking and biking programs, building and operating community food gardens, launching community outreach programs on recycling and energy, and dozens of other initiatives.

Ewing was awarded a Bronze Level Certification in 2013, Silver Level Certification in 2016 and a 2016 Sustainability Champion award in the medium municipality category (population between 5,000 – 39,999). The award is for receiving the highest number of points in this population category. To become Sustainable Jersey certified, Ewing had to complete a balance of the rigorous program sustainability actions. Please see Ewing’s Sustainable Jersey Profile to view the 2016 Silver Certification Report for details of the actions that were considered in becoming Silver Certified. For additional information about sustainability initiatives in Ewing go to ewingnj.org/project-medicine-drop.
Ewing is a quiet, mostly residential community made up of small neighborhoods. Its fertile soil and location next to the Delaware River made it a perfect site for European settlement in the 17th and 18th centuries. Farms sprang up and early neighborhoods grew around them. West Trenton is the former Birmingham. Wilburtha was originally called Greenburg. And Ewingville was located on the lands now occupied by The College of New Jersey. The farmhouse of William Green, built in 1717, still stands on its campus.

Ewing’s strategic location in central New Jersey has allowed it to be an active contributor to history. The path George Washington took on Christmas morning after crossing the Delaware River to reach Trenton and change the ultimate outcome of the American Revolution was through Ewing. A reminder of that involvement is the graveyard on the grounds of the 1867 Sanctuary where several Revolutionary War soldiers lie. Civil War soldiers and heroes from other wars can also be found there.

The Delaware Raritan Canal, built between 1830 and 1834, crosses the Wilburtha section of town. The canal carried coal and other needed raw materials to Trenton where industry was rapidly growing. Road names like Lower Ferry and Upper Ferry Roads still remain to remind us of our past. Following either of these roads will lead you to the River, adjacent to the canal, which today is a state park managed by the Delaware and Raritan Canal Commission. While walking or biking along the shore of canal it is not hard to imagine the mules pulling the loaded barges down the path at an earlier time in history.

In 1868, on West Upper Ferry Road just past the canal, Harvey Fisk built a home he called “Riverside.” His firm created the US government bonds program that helped the US cover it debts from the Civil War through WWII. His home is now the site of the Villa Victoria Academy in the Wilburtha neighborhood. Wilburtha had several name changes: Greenburg, then Trenton Junction, heralding the arrival of train service, and eventually West Trenton. Many of the area’s early homes can be found along Grand Avenue and West Upper Ferry Road.

And in 1798, while serving under US President John Adams, George Woodruff started building a summer home he called “The Oaklands” on Sullivan Way. This estate became the Trenton Country Club and many notable figures from the early 1900’s like John Astor, Teddy Roosevelt, John Rockefeller and Charlie Chaplin visited. The first public mental hospital in New Jersey is also located on Sullivan Way, originally called Asylum Road. Built 1884, the New Jersey Insane Asylum was founded by Dorothea Dix, an early advocate for humane treatment of the mentally ill. It is now called the Trenton Psychiatric Hospital and many of its original buildings still remain.

As transportation improved, Ewing shed its agricultural roots. In 1880, the West Trenton Train Station opened service from Philadelphia to Bound Brook and roads, bridges and trolleys facilitated access to surrounding areas.

By the 1900’s many Ewing residents worked in Trenton, the area’s industrial hub. John A Roebling, Stangl and Lenox Pottery, Westinghouse and Goodall Rubber were among the major employers. To this day a major Trenton bridge memorializes the city’s industrial prominence, boasting “Trenton Makes the World Takes.”

As Ewing’s population expanded (it was 3500 in 1920), new neighborhoods developed that still remain today: Prospect Heights (1902), Brae Burn Heights (1914), and Prospect Park (1917). The Prospect Heights Firehouse was formed in 1910 to protect these homes and still serves the community today. As the century advanced, neighborhoods like Weber Park (1920), Brookfield (1920), Homcrest (1921) and Fernwood (1925) opened, filling in the area between Ewing and Trenton.

The need for education also grew apace with development which demanded an organized expansion of the smaller neighborhood schools. Alfred Reed School (1914) was built in Prospect Heights, Fisk (1916) in the growing West Trenton area, Parkway School (1921) in Homcrest and Weber Park, Lanning School (1925) in Ewingville. These schools became the foundation of the Ewing school system that exists today. Other educational institutions also relocated to Ewing. The Normal School moved from Trenton in 1931. Today it is called The College of New Jersey, a premier institution of learning that is consistently recognized in the rankings of the nation’s top colleges. The Katzenbach School for the Deaf also moved to Ewing from Trenton in 1923. This School provides world renowned education for children with hearing loss.

Many state and municipal services moved to Ewing. The NJ State Police Barracks were built in 1921, the Skillman Airport (now Trenton-Mercer Airport) opened in 1929, and the Jones Farm moved to Ewing in 1930. These institutions remain in place and functioning today. According to the 1940 Census, the jobs these employers brought to the area grew the population to 10,146. Railroad access brought other employers such as Homosote, Roller Bearing and Heath Lumber to town that continue to employ residents today. In 1928 Ewing hired its first full time police officers. From a Chief and three officers, the force has grown steadily to today’s 80+ officers and 4 canines that continues to keep this community of neighborhoods safe.

The building of a General Motors plant in 1938 and Naval Air Warfare Center in 1953 had both historical and economic impacts and for many years both were major employers in the community. The GM plant became one of the five factories that worked with the US Navy during WWII and made up the Eastern Aircraft Division. Its workforce was the embodiment of Rosie the Riveter. Ewing employees built the Grumman TBF Avenger Torpedo Bomber. It was in one of these bombers that future President George Herbert Walker Bush was shot down in during the war. Ewing is proud of its contributions to the war effort and a McDonnell Douglas A-4B Skyhawk fighter jet is displayed in the Maj. Gen. George J. Betor Veterans Memorial Park behind the Ewing Municipal Building.

Both GM and the Naval Air Warfare Center are now closed and the Township is aggressively working to develop these areas. Since both of these sites are readily accessible to the train station, airport and major highways they present many potential opportunities for the future of the Township.

Following WWII, Ewing grew rapidly and typified the type of communities most Baby Boomers remember fondly. The new neighborhoods that were built between 1940 and 1955 include Glendale, Parkway Village, Moss Homes, Wynnwood Manor, and Fleetwood Village. All of those young “Boomers” required a high school and construction on Ewing High School started in 1951/52. The NJ State Department of Transportation moved to Ewing in 1957 and by the 1960’s the population had grown to over 26,000. As additional fire protection was needed, two more volunteer fire companies were founded: Pennington Road in 1945 and West Trenton in 1947. Two of today’s fire companies remain primarily staffed by volunteers, excellent examples of the sense of community that still remains.

The rising population demanded more elementary schools: Antheil was built in 1960 and Lore in 1963 and eventually replaced the older ones which were officially closed in 1983. The original Parkway school was torn down and replaced in 1995, making it our newest elementary school. Fisher Middle School was built in 1955.

The Sixties saw continued population growth and more development: Hampton Hills, Hillwood Manor, Sherbrook, Hickory Hill, Shabakunk Hills, the Village on the Green and Mountview. By 1960 the population was 27,000. Still more new neighborhoods were added in the Seventies and include Great Oaks, Churchill Green, Brooks Crossing, and Briarcrest. Apartments and condominiums like Delaware Rise and Cambridge Hall were also built.

By the end of the Seventies Ewing’s neighborhoods ultimately reached all the borders of the Township. The litany of neighborhood names continues over the years with the addition of the Titusville section of Mountview, Arbor Walk, Tamar Commons, South Fork, Spring Meadow Estates, and the Jefferson and Madison condominiums. Building is still occurring in Ewing with our most recent community, Green 750 at Bear Tavern which is currently leasing new apartments.

In 1990, the census of Ewing totaled just over 34,000 people. Our community is composed of people who brought diversity to the community and built churches, synagogues and mosques; founded organizations, and developed and supported music and art. Many of these organizations and groups remain active in the community and continue to enrich the lives of our residents.

Homes remain a source of pride and evidence of achieving the American Dream. This community pride fostered the development a strong educational system that still wins awards today. This community pride put aside 355 acres of land to build a strong recreational department, fostered many athletic programs that won the Babe Ruth World Series Championship in 1970. Swimming, tennis, and golf are all readily available and supported by the community along with team sports leagues such as soccer, baseball, basketball & football.

Our major employers are no longer industrial based. According to recent Department of Labor data major sources of employment are governmental. Main occupations are professional and
The hectic paces of our lives sometimes makes it difficult to get out and meet the neighbors face to face. Connecting online is an attractive option for creating community connections. Currently, 25 of Ewing’s neighborhoods are connected. Try it. Join in and make local connections that count.

Preservation of Ewing’s Historic Past

Two organizations work to preserve the history of Ewing. The Historic Preservation Commission is an appointed board that recommends designation of historic properties, and prepares surveys of historic sites.

The Ewing Township Historic Preservation Society (ethps.org) is a local non-profit that is headquartered in the Benjamin Temple House at Drake Farm Park. The site serves as a museum of Ewing’s past. The Society works diligently to preserve the site and promote exciting programming about Ewing’s past. They also conduct research and safeguard the documents and artifacts that reflect and preserve the history of our community. They welcome your questions and are always looking for volunteers.

Ewing remains a vibrant and active community. Fourth of July fireworks, a Community festival, Trunk or Treat, Scarecrow Contest, Student Art Displays, a Community Bike Ride and Ewing Night Out are some examples. This welcome booklet has been developed to help you have most of the information you will need to enjoy all Ewing has to offer.

Bear Tavern Road Boulder Monuments
Bear Tavern Rd. near Windybush Way (Bear Tavern Rd. near Upper Ferry Rd.)

Historic Crossroad Park
Bear Tavern Rd. and Upper Ferry Rd
This small park commemorates an important location in the march of Washington's troops towards Trenton after their historic Christmas night 1776 crossing of the Delaware River. After traveling down Bear Tavern Road, they reached a crossroads at about 7 a.m. at this location, in an area which was then called Birmingham and is now the West Trenton section of Ewing. It was at this crossroads that General George Washington divided his 2,400 troops into two columns to make a two-pronged attack on the Hessian garrison at Trenton. The two columns reached Trenton and made their attack at 8 a.m., where they were victorious at the first Battle of Trenton.

A sign in the park describes the paths taken from here to Trenton by the two columns:

"One column under the command of General Nathanael Greene approached the city from the northwest by way of Pennington Road. The other column, led by General John Sullivan, marched down the Old River Road (Grand Avenue - Sullivan Way) and entered Trenton from the southwest."

Ewing Church Cemetery
100 Scotch Rd.
The Ewing Church Cemetery dates to 1708, and is still an active cemetery. It contains the graves of the Revolutionary War veterans.

General Hugh Mercer Monument
In Front of Mountain View Golf Course at 850 Bear Tavern Rd
Hugh Mercer was a Scottish immigrant who served as a Brigadier General in the Revolutionary War. He died from wounds suffered at the Battle of Princeton in January 1777. Several months later, Fort Mercer was named in his honor. In 1838, decades after the war, Mercer County was named after him. The monument pays tribute to General Hugh Mercer and commemorates the dedicatory ceremonies of Mercer Airport. At that time, the airport hangar was alongside Bear Tavern Road. In 1942, it was moved a short distance, and the entrance is now located a mile southeast of here. The airport is now known as Trenton-Mercer Airport.
1867 Sanctuary at Ewing

The 1867 Sanctuary at Ewing, as it is now known, is the former First Presbyterian Church of Ewing. It is a majestic stone building “at the bend in the Scotch Road” which has stood for 150 years and is a central landmark in the township. It has served as a sanctuary for congregants and citizens and a gathering place for sacred and secular activities. The adjacent three hundred year old cemetery includes the graves of 39 Revolutionary War veterans.

The building is no longer used as a church and was rescued from demolition by Preservation New Jersey (PNJ), a statewide non-profit historic preservation advocacy, education and assistance organization. The building has been lovingly restored and is now a beautiful gathering place and serves the central New Jersey and Bucks County PA region as an impressive mid-sized arts and cultural center, which hosts concerts, recitals, theater, entertainment, exhibits – and, of course, dedications, weddings, memorial services, and other ecumenical and interfaith activities. It is located at 101 Scotch Road in Ewing Township, Mercer County, New Jersey.

TCNJ offers cultural and recreational activities such as access to art galleries, great lectures, performers and musicians and sporting events. Ewing residents can also take advantage of the college level library collection and purchase a library card at a nominal fee. Pool memberships are also available for purchase.

The College’s history dates back to the mid-1800s when it was first established by the state legislature as a teacher’s training school. It was originally located in Trenton and moved to its present location, a beautiful 210-acre campus near the heart of Ewing in 1928.

A Town-Gown Committee was formed in 2012 to strengthen relations between the township and the college community. We now see TCNJ students regularly volunteering for projects about town and a day for elementary schoolers to visit college students was established. TCNJ also partners with Township officials to host Ewing’s annual Community Fest, a day-long celebration of our community in the early fall.

Strong communities are created through the efforts of dedicated volunteers. There are many opportunities for volunteering your talents and energy in Ewing. Residents can volunteer for an appointment to a Community Board, Committee or Commission; assist with a number of emergency services; clean up a park or trail; teach a computer class, or call a senior bingo game. The possibilities are limitless. Volunteering is also a great way make new friends in town, as well as to receive those intangible rewards that come from giving back to your community. Join in and make our Community a better place to live!

FIRE DEPARTMENTS

Ewing Fire Departments are always on the lookout for committed volunteers who are looking for a special challenge and want to give back to their community. Residents may apply to become a firefighter, a fire policeman or to contribute to the "business-side" of a firehouse. Membership is open to anyone age 16 and above who is a Ewing Township resident and a U.S. citizen. A member must be over the age of 18 to be considered a full firefighter. Below the age of 18, a member is part of the junior firefighter program, which permits the member to participate in almost every aspect of training, and a semi-limited role in actual incidents.

In 2015 the Ewing Green Team conducted a Community Visioning (ewinggreenteam.org/strategic-plan). Welcoming new residents and helping current residents realize the richness of resources available in our community was identified as a way to build community engagement among all residents and we were charged by participants with helping to build those community connections. The Ewing Township Welcome Booklet is the product of that charge and we are delighted to offer this guide that highlights the reasons why we all choose to live in Ewing.

Our thanks to the following contributors: Councilman Kevin Baxter, Lisa Feldman, Don Garay, Theresa Hullings, Kathleen Jordan, Chuck Latini, Joanne Mullowney, Jeff Prieschel, Caroline Steward, Councilwoman Sarah Steward. Photographs donated by Mark Wetherbee and other Green Team members and various organizations.
